No.PDS.12/2014/Pt/324 - The Meghalaya Prisons Manual is hereby published for general information. It shall come into force with effect from the date of its notification in the Official Gazette.

INTRODUCTION

This Volume of the Meghalaya Prison Manual relates to the administration and management of prisons and issues related thereto.

The duties of various categories of officers and staff of the Prisons & Correctional Services have been laid down to deal with circumstances and situations hitherto not provided for. It is their responsibility to rely on their sagacity and wisdom gained through years of professional experience in the service to deal with the situations appropriately, in accordance with the provisions of the law of the land.

The Manual has a good number of chapters that contain rules governing the approach to dealing with the prisoners from the standpoint of human rights and in the light of the Orders and Judgments of the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India for instance, on matters such as correctional service, overcrowding, humane approach to handling prisoners, skill development of the inmates and a host of other key issues which aim at making the prison a place of correcting the individual prisoners so as to render them ready to be assimilated to the society through a process of re-integration and rehabilitation.

Various State Government instructions and circulars issued by the Central Government have also found their way into the Manual, e.g., regulations that pertain to the High Security area of the prison.

There is no doubt that prison administration and management has emerged as one of the most important cogs in the criminal justice system. It is therefore vital that prison administration and management be effective, the responsibility for which rests upon the prison officials under the supervision of able leadership.

T. LYNGBA,
